

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Respobio Journal: Postharvest Technology and Food Biotechnology is an international peer-reviewed journal that publishes research and review article on postharvest and biotechnology in food with a special emphasis on harvesting, processing, biotechnology, packaging, distribution, marketing and consumption phases particularly in Indonesian foods, as well as other regions that have similar or relevant to Indonesian food. The topics of the articles may include but are not limited to the functional, microbiology, chemistry and sensory aspects of contemporary foods.

Authors are invited to submit manuscripts that fall within the scope of the Respobio Journal. Please read the information on the peer-review process. The articles published in Respobio Journal are going through a Single-blind peer-review policies. Hence, the decision on whether the scientific article is accepted or not, will be the Editorial Board's right based on the peer reviewer's recommendation.

Please read and understand the author's guidelines for the preparation manuscript. The author who submits a manuscript to the editors should comply with the author's guidelines and template. If the submitted manuscript does not comply with the guidelines or using a different format, it will be rejected by the editorial team before being reviewed. The editorial team will only accept a manuscript that meets the specified formatting requirements.

Type of Manuscript

Respobio Journal accepts two types of manuscripts which are Research and Review Articles.

- Research Articles (2000-9000 words; peer-reviewed) Research articles present significant new research results, including the entire contents of a research project. Research articles generally include introduction, methods, results and discussion and conclusion.
- Review Articles (2000-9000 words; peer-reviewed) Review articles do not cover original research but rather accumulate the results of many different articles on a particular topic into a coherent narrative about state of the art in the emerging field of food, nutrition, and culinary. Review articles provide information about the topic and also provide journal references to the original research.

Important Note

If English is not your first language, we appreciate it if the manuscript has passed the proofread process by a native or a trusted proofread institution. Do not forget to attach the proofread evidence to the supplementary file when making a submission. Otherwise, your manuscript will be delayed or even rejected after a preliminary review by the editorial team.

Review Policy

Editor in Chief will assign the manuscript to Managing Editor for further handling. The Managing Editor will request at least two scientists to review the research article manuscript. All manuscripts are subject to single blind peer-review, both the reviewer and author identities are concealed from the reviewers, and vice versa, throughout the review process to meet standards of academic excellence.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Publication Frequency

Respobio Journal: Postharvest Technology and Food Biotechnology published two times a year in May and November.

Open Access Policy

This journal provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge.

Paper Format

The word limit for the submission is 2000-9000 words.

The sequence of manuscripts following: Title; Abstract; Keywords; Introduction; Materials and Methods (for original research articles); Results and Discussion; Conclusion; Acknowledgements; Author Contributions; Funding; Institutional Review Board Statement; Data Availability Statement; Conflicts of Interest and References.

- Formatting requirements

Please use the author submission template available online at Respobio Journal website. To use the template, kindly 'Save As' the MS Word file to your document, then copy and paste your document. To copy and paste the text into the template, please use 'Special Paste' and choose 'Unformatted Text'. Papers not prepared in accordance with author guidelines and manuscripts with a number of mistakes will have to be pre-rejected by Editor. Download the 'Journal Template'. If your article includes any Videos and/or other Supplementary material, this should be included in your supplementary file at initial submission for peer review purposes.

Main Headings of Manuscripts

An article may be divided into sections, subsections, and sub-subsections, using Arabic numerals. Only the initial word and proper names should be capitalized. Following main headings, sub-headings and sub-sub headings should be numbered in the manuscript.

a. Front Matter

These sections should appear in all manuscript types.

- Title Page

Title

Concise and informative, title of articles are written with calibri (body), bold, size 16, justify, sentence case, line spacing single, and title should not exceed 21 words.

Author(s) name

The author's name is written in full under the title without mentioning academic titles and positions, calibri (body), bold, size 12, justify, sentence case, and line spacing single.

Affiliations

Present the authors' affiliation addresses (including city and country) below the names. Indicate all affiliations with superscript number immediately after the author's name and in front of the appropriate address with calibri (body), size 12, justify, sentence case, and line spacing single.

Corresponding author

Corresponding author email must be written and indicate with asterisk (*) superscript after the corresponding author's name withCalibri (body), size 10, justify, sentence case, and line spacing single.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

- Abstract

A concise and factual abstract is required. The abstract should state briefly the purpose of the research, the methods, the principal results and major conclusions. Font withCalibri (body) size 10.5, and preferably not more than 300 words.

- Keywords

Keywords should include 3-6 keywords, keywords separated by a comma (,).

b. Research Manuscript Sections

starting from introduction should be written withCalibri (body), size 14, bold for bab and 12 italic for sub bab, and 12 for paragraph, justify, and line spacing single.

- Introduction

The introduction should be clear and provide the issue to be discussed in the manuscript. At the end of the paragraph, the authors should end with a comment on the significance concerning identification of the issue and the objective of research.

- Materials and Methods

Provide sufficient detail to allow the work to be reproduced. Methods already published should be indicated by a reference (only relevant modifications should be described). Please note that publication of your manuscript implicates that you must make all materials, data, computer code, and protocols associated with the publication available to readers.

- Result and Discussion

This section is the most important section of your article. Contains the results of the object of study and should be clear and concise. It should provide a concise and precise description of the experimental results. Authors should discuss the results and how they can be interpreted in perspective of previous studies and of the working hypotheses.

- Conclusion

Conclusion contains a description that should answer the objectives of research. Do not repeat the Abstract or simply describe the results of the research. Give a clear explanation regarding the possible application and/or suggestions related to the research findings.

c. Back Matter

- Acknowledgements

In this section you can acknowledge any support given which is not covered by the author contribution or funding sections. This may include administrative and technical support, or donations in kind (e.g., materials used for experiments).

- Author Contributions

Each author must have contributed significantly to the idea or design of the work, the collection, analysis, or interpretation of data, the development of new software used in the work, the writing or substantial revision of the work, and approval of the submitted version (and version substantially edited by journal staff that incorporates the author's contribution to the study), and agreement to be personally liable for the author's own contingencies.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

- Funding

There should be full disclosure of the study's funding sources. Indicate any awards you have received to help with your research efforts, and state whether you have funding to help with publication fees. Be aware that if the donor and grant number are not explicitly and appropriately stated in the publication, some funders will not refund article processing charges (APC). The authors can submit their manuscripts along with separate entries for funding via the submission system. If the work is ultimately published, this financing information will be deposited to FundRef. Please include the following statements in this section: "This research received no external funding" or "This research was supported by [name of funder] grant number [xxx]" and "The APC was supported by [XXX]". Use standard spelling for funding agency names and double-check that the provided information is valid at <https://search.crossref.org/funding>, as any mistakes could jeopardise your future financing.

- Institutional Review Board Statement

For experiments involving people or animals, please include the Institutional Review Board Statement and approval number in this box.

Please be aware that the editorial office might need more details from you. Please include "The study was approved by the Institutional Review Board (or Ethics Committee) of NAME OF INSTITUTE (protocol code XXX and date of approval) and carried out in accordance with the Declaration of Helsinki." Alternately, "Ethical review and approval were waived for this study, due to REASON" (please give a thorough explanation). OR "Not relevant" in cases where no humans or animals were included in the study.

If neither humans nor animals were included in the study, you can also decide to omit this claim.

- Data Availability Statement

Please describe where the data that support the stated results may be accessed in this section, including any URLs to publicly available datasets that were used in the study or created during it. If the study did not present any data, you can decide to exclude this claim.

- Conflicts of Interest

The depiction or interpretation of published study results may be deemed to be influenced by an author's personal circumstances or interests, which must be disclosed by the author. In that case, kindly write "The authors declare no conflict of interest." The funding sponsors' involvement in the selection of the research project, the study's design, the data collection, analysis, or interpretation, the drafting of the paper, or the choice to publish the findings must be disclosed in this area. The complete declaration of donor involvement must be carefully considered for any programmes supported by business. Please write "The sponsors had no part in the design, implementation, interpretation, or writing of the study" if there is none. Conflict of Interest has more information in publication ethics.

- d. References

For submissions to issues published from 2025 onwards, Respobio Journal: Postharvest Technology and Food Biotechnology uses the Vancouver Style in the References at the end of the manuscript. Please ensure that every reference cited in the text is also present in the reference list (and vice versa). Please use Reference Manager Applications like EndNote,

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Mendeley, Zotero, etc. Use other published articles in the same journal as models. All publications cited in the text should be included in the References section and arranged alphabetically. For example:

Books

- 1. Baars T. Regulations and production of raw milk. In: Raw Milk. Elsevier; 2019. p. 65–89.
- 2. Whitely PR. Biscuit manufacture: fundamentals of in-line production. Springer Science & Business Media; 2012.

Journal

- 3. Glover SG. The Cheese Biscuit Queen Tells All: Southern Recipes, Sweet Remembrances, and a Little Rambunctious Behavior. Southeast Libr. 2021;69(1):6.
- 4. Peris M, Escuder-Gilabert L. On-line monitoring of food fermentation processes using electronic noses and electronic tongues: A review. Anal Chim Acta. 2013;804:29–36.

Figures

All figures should be cited in the main text as Figure 1 etc. The figures should be clearly readable and at least have a resolution of 300 DPI (Dots Per Inch) for good printing quality. If there are multiple panels, they should be listed as: (a) Description of what is contained in the first panel; (b) Description of what is contained in the second panel. Figures name written with calibri (body), and size 11.

Table

Table made with the open model (without the vertical lines). Tables should be placed in the main text near to the first time they are cited.

Plagiarism Policy

Plagiarism and self-plagiarism are not allowed. The authors should ensure that they have written entirely original works, and if the authors have used the work and/or words of others that this has been appropriately cited or quoted. Editorial Team checking manuscript by using Turnitin app. If it is found plagiarism indication (more than 20%), the board will reject the manuscript immediately.

Submission Preparation Checklist

As part of the submission process, authors are required to check off their submission's compliance with all of the following items, and submissions may be returned to authors that do not adhere to these guidelines.

- The submission has not been previously published, nor is it before another journal for consideration (or an explanation has been provided in Comments to the Editor).
- The submission file is in Open Office, Microsoft Word, or RTF document file format.
- References using Vancouver style with reference manager. We highly recommend to use Mendeley.
- The manuscript has followed requirements outlined in the Author Guidelines.
- The manuscript has been adjusted as Respopbio journal's template.

All manuscripts must be submitted online at:

<http://agritech.unhas.ac.id/ojs/index.php/respopbio/about/submissions>